The Silver Bill Picked to Pieces.

Friends of the White Metal Say They Have Been Fooled.

The New Measure Worse Than the One it Will Repeal.

Even Bland Says it Must Be Amended of the President Would Have Good Grounds to Veto the

By Telegraph to The Times.

New York, July 4.—[By the Associated Press.] The Times' Washington special says that some free silver men are beginning to wonder whether the free coinage measure which the Senate passed on Friday would really accomplish what they have been aiming to bring about if it should become a law. Apparently very few of them knew previous to Friday that Senator Stewart proposed to offer a substitute for his original measure. Most of them seem to have been ignorant of the provisions of the new bill. Now that the bill is in cold type the impression is growing that should it finally become law the free silver men would soon realize that they had been led into a ridiculous po-

One Senator who voted for the bill without examining it said tonight to the correspondent of the Times that he believed a serious mistake had been made. "The bill," he said, "provides that uncoined bullion in the Treasury must be coined. Taking the amount on hand and the capacity of the mints into consideration, I figure that over three years would elapse before any bullion, not yet delivered, could be handled by the Government. The man who drew up the substitute, which was accepted, evidently did not think of this." evidently did not think of this."

Representative Harter (Dem.) of Ohio said: "It is the most, bungling measure which ever passed a legislative body. Should it become law, the most ardent free silver men would soon begin to upbraid its framers. First, it provides for the stoppage of monthly purchases of silver. It also stops the issue of silver certificates. This ends the accumulation of silver month by month and puts a period to the viclous month and puts a period to the vicious increase of silver certificates. Observe, it absolutely closes the monthly market for silver builtion, and is likely to cause the price to drop away below $8 cents per ounce. So far, you see, the free silver people have in their zeal killed, the goose which laid the golden (or silver) egg. If their bill should ever become law, the curses from the mining camps would be loud and deep. Go a step further and notice that the bill orders the uncoinea bullion in the Treasury to be coined. This will cost $1,600,000, which is, so to speak, thrown away, but will occupy the mints on Government coinage probably not far from two years. Meanwhile our free silver friends can keep their silver and cool their heels on the sidewalks. Suppose you had $100,000 in silver bullion and proposed to get the benefits of this bill, increase of silver certificates. Observe proposed to get the benefits of this bill, you would take it to the mint, but as the mint has not storage it would be wholly impossible (though legally and in a Pickwickian or technical sense possible) for the Government to take it.

members of the committee or Senators interested in silver, on looking the bill over he feared it would have to be amended as it appeared to him that by repealing the act of 1890 the bill deprived eighty odd million dollars in silver certificates of legal tender quality. This, he said, would admit of a veto by the President without reference to the question of silver coinage. Of course there was no intention on the part of the gentleman proposing the

Then Mrs. Lease elbowed her way to the front and shouted in her stentorian voice: "I. too, have received a message. I am authorized to say that if the nomination is tendered unanimously even Gen. Harrison will decline." [Derisive langhter.] The Gresham people, however, were not dismayed by these evidences of sharp opposition to their candidate and the cheers were renewed. At this point the opposers of Gresham made a clever move to prevent his name carrying the convention by storm. Paul Vandervoort of Nebraska, who is bitterly opposed to Gresham having been removed from office by Gresham when the latter was Postmaster-General, claimed recognition. With remarkable dexterity he shifted his position and assumed the role of a Gresham enthusiast. "If it is true," said he "that he, Walter Q. Gresham, will accept on the platform of the People's party I will support him with all my heart and second his nomination in this convention."

Vandervoort then moved that the convention adjourn after the nominating the first provision and second his nomination in this convention adjourn after the nominating value of the gentleman proposing the bill to destroy the legal tender character of the gentleman proposing the bill to destroy the legal tender character of the certificates, and it may be they looked into the matter and discovered it all right. So far as the passage of the bill was concerned, Bardway to amend it twill be done, and it will be sent back to the Senate for consideration. If it needs no amendment the matter will be very simple.

Mr. Pjerce introduced in the House on Saturday a resolution providing that, on a day to be agreed upon, it shall be in order to move a suspension of the rules to pass public measures which had a majority vote shall be sufficient. Probably such a rule will be reported from the Committee on Rules, and if the majority favors it it will be adopted. It may be that this proposition will be adopted at the me

That is that we must not nominate one of the old guard who has been in the front of this movement all this time. I believe in selecting a man who will meet the approval of the people inside the party. Do not be a faid of what the opposition may say. You bring up a man and say that he has not made enemies in this movement and I say he is not worth that (with a snap of the finger.) BULES REPORTED. The Committee on Rales presented a report. It limits nominating speeches for President and Vice President to for President and Vice-President to fifteen minutes and remarks on questions in general to five minutes. The rule for balloting on nominations for President and Vice-President provided that if no nominee received a majority on first ballot, each delegate be allowed on second ballot to cast one vote for his first choice and half a vote for 'his second choice. If no one secured a majority on this ballot the two candidates receiving the largest number of votes shall only be voted for on the third ballot. All resolutions are to be referred to the Committee on Resolutions without debats. Each State and Territory shall have one vote for each delegate.

The following is the order of business: Announcement of names of the National Committee, report of the Committee on Platform and Resolutions, nomination of candidates for the Presidency, balloting thereon, nomination of candidates for the Vice-President, balloting thereon. of candidates for balloting thereon.

Vociferous signs of disapproval greeted the reading of the paragraph governing the proposed new system of balloting, but after some colloquy a motion for adoption was put and declared carried. But Vandervort of Nebraska protested that any man who has a choice should be permitted to exercise it without being muzzled. He proposed an amendment striking out the clause providing for the retirement of all except the two leaders after the second ballot, and the amendment prevailed by a large majority, leaving the

The effect of the proceedings in the convention was to alarm the Resolutions Committee. They became stampeded and soon filed on the stage with the platform hastily brought to completion. Their appearance removed the cause for a fight on the floor, and the conventionsbecame silent, while Thomas Caton of California read the preamble of the unanimous report of the committee.

done unanimously. The preamble is the same as that tele

The preamble is the same as that tele-graphed from here last night, with the exception of the third section, which is as follows:

The telegraph, like the postomes system, being a necessity for the transmission of news, should be owned and operated by the Government in the interest of the people. Land, including all natural sources of wealth, is the heritage of the people and should not be monopolized for speculative purposes, and alican ownership of land should be prohibited. All land now held by railroads and other corporations in excess of their actual needs, and all lands now owned by aliens should be reclaimed by the Government and held for actual settlers only.

WILD SCENES OF ENTHUSIASM Branch of Georgia read the platform proper. The strong sentences pictur-ing graphically the ruin of the country unless there is a reform, were well received and met with approbation, but when the sentence relating to Govern-ment ownership of transportation in the people's interest was reached, there was a demonstration which interrupted progress. Ex-Senator Van Wych was in the front of the hall, leading the Nebraska delegation and convention in the applause. The reading of nearly every plank of the platform proper was received with some applause. The free silver plank was enthusiastically greeted with cheers and waving of hats and the Government ownership of railroads plank got a tumultuous greet-ing, in which it was noticable that Ne-braska, Georgia, Kansas and Texas led. Applause and cries of "Amen" from all parts of the house was the recognition accorded the paragraph favoring Government control of telephone and telegraph lines. A regular Baptist campmeeting chorus greeted the land plank. At the conclusion of the reading, the platform was warmly greeted and its adoption instantly moved, and though a Missouri delegate was striving for some unknown purpose to get recognition, it was put through by unanimous consent.

Then the convention broke over all restrains and went wild Delegate.

Ward of Missouri moved to suspend the rules and proceed to ballot for the nomination of a candidate. This was seconded, but there was no intention on the part of the ardent Gresham men to give up hope, and an Illinois delegate made the point of order that the motion was contrary to the rules. The chairman overruled the point of order on the ground that the convention could do as it pleased, and Ward's motion was the secondary of the hall in which the delegates sat, drummers heading marchers. Connecticut's banner said: "Congress, and not the people, be damned! Shylock twins,—Grover and Ben." The crowd broke forth time and time again in applause. Women on the movement, and getting in line marched with their male associates, the men not in line shouting encourage crise of "Right, sister." TAUBENECK'S TELEGRAM. Taubeneck had, during the latter part of the scene following the adop-tion of the platform, been in dispair, seeking to get an opportunity to make himself heard. He was on a chair wildly waving a telegram just received. The surmise that the dispatch was from Gresham spread like widdire and from all over the hall people ran to get in-formation from Taubeneck, while others became excited, and added to the ers became excited, and added to the confusion by howling down their neigh-bors. The people on the stage were noisiest and Ingersoll of Kansas, re-gardless of the rapping of the chair-man's gavel, excitedly rushed up and vehemently warned them to keep quiet. Chairman Loucks, whose speech on the taking the gavel in the morning Chairman Loucks, whose speech on first taking the gavel in the morning had stamped him as an anti-Gresham man, sought now to create a diversion against the imminent stampede of the convention to Gresham. He made a Taubeneck finally got on the plat form, and it was comparatively quiet, but attention was again taken from but attention was again taken from the matter of real interest by the chair recognizing, instead of Taubeneck, a delegate named Wadsworth of Indiana, who made a rambling address of con-siderable length. The effect of this telegram was electrical. Thousands of people sprang in-stantly to their feet and thousands of voices cheered again and again for Gresham. There seemed no among those wildly cheering enthus-lasts that they were a majority of the delegates.

Immediately after reading this dispatch Brown of Massachusetts took the stage. "Equal rights to all, special eges to none," he said. [Loud stage. "Equal rights to air, special privileges to none," he said. [Loud cheers.] "The chairman has made the announcement that Gresham will ac-cept if nominated unanimously, [Cries of "That's right" Zand more cheering. visibly to the annoyance of the speaker. I hold in my hand a letter from Chairman Page, of the Virginia State Alliance, in which he tells me that his name may go before this convention for the Presidential nomination, and after a full, free and fair expression of the will find the convention he is represed to the will be seen that the suppose the Government take it. Here the audience arose en masse.

"Gresham! Gresham! Three cheers for Gresham! Hurrah for Gresham!" rang through the hail for several seconds, and the words were accompanied by wild manifestations of enthusiasm.

Brown resentfully velled: "I don't propose to attempt to stampede the convention with the aid of the galleries. That is an old party trick." A volley of hisses, loud and long continued, greeted this statement, and again Chairman Loucks interferred, shouling is a meeting of the Committee on Colnage Weights and Measures will be called for Wednesday to consider the

This is a disgrace to the convention.

Instantly Robert C. Schilling of Wisconsin sprang to his feet. "No gentleman has a right to insult the chairman of our national committee and our convention." he said, amid ringing cheers.

We have a tribute on the convention of the committee or Senators interested in silver, on looking the bill "No one has a right to so insult us by making charges and fraudulent insinua-tions against the party's chairman." NOT MUCH LIKE HARMONY.

Indescribable confusion followed and ecriminations were hurled back and forth by the two factions. When silence was restored Brown apologized for any-convention."

Vandervoort then moved that the convention adjourn after the nominating speeches were made until 7 p.m. The Gresham people received the motion with but little favor, but finally it was declared to be carried and nominating speeches were announced to be in or-

-INDEPENDENCE DAY-

Thousands of People Witness the Celebration.

One of the Best Parades Ever Witnessed in the City.

Every Available Spot Along the Line of March Occupied.

The Exercises at the Pavilion in the Aft Grand Pyrotechnic Display at Westlake Park in the Evening.

A more favorable day for the celebra ion of the glorious Fourth could not have put in an appearance than yester-day proved to be. The thermometer behaved most beautifully, and not once during the day did the mercury mount the scale above 85°. The sun remained behind a fog bank until a late hour, and when he did show his face a cool, refreshing breeze sprang up and cooled the cheeks of the hundreds who participated in one of the finest, if not the argest, parades ever witnessed in this

Long before the hour set for the parade to move every avenue leading to the heart of the city was crowded with every variety of vehicle under the sun, and the street cars from the out-skirts were crowded with a happy mass of humanity bent on seeing everything pertaining to the celebration. Country people flocked in from all quarters, and the dust-begrimed condition of hundreds of them showed that they had breakfasted by candle-light and trav-eled many miles to be on hand in time. As soon as they had disposed of their teams they sought the streets on which the procession was to move, and by 8 o'clock thousands of patriots from the rural districts might have been seen in doorways and on curbstones. Women and children, old men and maidens, decked out in their Sunday best, jostled each other in their efforts to secure the each other in their efforts to secure the best positions to see the parade. Strange sights met the gaze of those who took time to study the groups that lined the principal streets. The usual crowd of country people, who only visit the city once a year, were out in force and one could see that they were full of patriotism and happiness. Even the young babies waved their milk bottles in glee and seemed to understand that they were in duty bound to make as much noise as possible.

The small boy and the festive fire-cracker turned out at an early hour and made it lively for old people with nerves and rheumatic backs.

But little can be said about the decorations.

rations. The Committee of Arrange rations. The Committee of Arrangements devoted themselves principally to flags this year and the main streets presented a patriotic appearance from a Stars and Stripes' standpoint, never before equalled. All of the principal places of business were draped in bunting, streamers and flags and quite a number spent considerable time on evergreens and flowers, and their places presented an appearance most artistic. It is estimated by those who had an resented an appearance most artistic.

It is estimated by those who had an opportunity to judge that fully 35,000 people witnessed the parade from the sidewalks and buildings along the line of march. Every available spot was occupied and thousands of people had to take their stand in the streets.

As was promised, Grand Marshal Mc. As was promised, Grand Marshal Mc-

As was promised, Grand Marsal McGarry got the line in motion at 10 o'clock, a thing that has never before been done in this city. As a rule the people have been kept waiting from thirty minutes to an hour and a half. The promptness with which the grand marshal set his columns in motiou caused some confusion among the trades people, who were not on time and they had to take their places in line wher-ever they could squeeze in, but all were in place before many blocks were traveled and the columns moved with a smoothness that is seldom witnessed on such occasions. While all the aids ap-pointed by the grand marshal did not turn out, there was a good showing, and all present did what they could to make the affair a success, and their efforts were duly appreciated.

The Police, National Guard and Fire Department Loom Up in Great Shape. At 10:05 o'clock Grand Marshal Mc-Garry gave the order to move, and in a few seconds the seven divisions began the line of march up Main street toward the plaza in the following order:
First division—Main street, south of Fourth street.
Second division—West Fifth, facing Main street.

Third division—Main street, south of rth division-West Sixth street, facing Main street, Fifth division—East Sixth street, facing Main street. Sixth Division—East Seventh, facing

In a few minutes the divisions fell in line and slowly marched up the street amid the cheers of thousands, who were evidently surprised at the promptness with which the commands of the grand marshal were carried out. THE FIRST DIVISION This division contained the pride of the city from the small boys' stand-point, for it was made up principally of point, for it was made up principally of police officers and gaily-dressed musicians and dashing aids.

Chief Glass, done up in his Sunday best and mounted on that noble old police horse, Grover, led the procession. He was followed by the mounted officers, who are rated the finest horse-nin the city. They were brand new officers, who are rated the finest horsemen in the city. They wore brand new unitorms and as their horses had been neatly groomed they presented a handsome front to the admiring crowds. Next came the drum corps, followed by the police rifle team and the patrolmen.

The Grand Marshal and Douglas' Military Band with "Rudy" as drummajor, held the next place in line. Chief-of-Staff Chas. A. Alexapater came next with the following aids:

Chief-of-Staff Chas. A. Alexander came next with the following aids:

D. F. Donegan, H. J. Shoulters, C. F. Munson, E. C. Canet, J. C. Fernandez (Santa Barbara), E. W. Kinsey, H. C. Carter, Tom Strohm, H. Kerney, S. Mc-Kinley, Jr., W. F. Nordholt, P. A. Stanton, E. Tynan, A. E. Carson, C. Crowley, P. Watson, Wm. Llewellyn, J. B. Howard, W. A. Caldwell, H. W. Altman, Emil Quarre, C. E. Tidball, G. J. Lindenfelt, John S. Mott, J. E. Frick, M. Ordoqui, E. T. Sabichi, P. S. Buddinger.

SECOND DIVISION. The second division was commanded by Tom Strohm. out in new uniforms and the e was not a tarnished button to be see neven on the breasts of the younger soldiers. Col. W. G. Schreiber and his staff deserve much credit for the turn out, as they only had Cos. A. C, and F to draw from, as the outside companies had to look out for the interests of their own towns. The Seventh is now in a flour-ishing condition and will soon rank as the crack regiment of the State. The Signal Corps deserve special men-tion for the reason that the boys took much interest in the success of the pa-rade and went so far acres to him their rade and went so far as to hire their own horses. Each member of the corps was mounted and carried an immense signal flag. Their bright uniforms added greatly to the general appearance of this division and their commander, Maj. Owens, deserves much credit for the manner in which he has drilled his

The Whittier Cadets, 140 strong, brought up the rear of this division. The boys were dressed neatly in gray, and are as fine a lot of young men as one will meet with in any country.

They have been thoroughly drilled and it can be seen at a glance that they are proud of the advancement they have made.

The Sailors' League, seventy-five strong, followed the cadets in this vision. They were white shirts strong, followed the cadets in this di-vision. They wore white shirts and blue trousers and caps, and formed one of the main features of the parade. The citizens of San Pedro raised money to send them up and gave them a grand lunch at the Hollenbeck restaurant. In the afternoon the boys marched about the streets and were greatly admired.

THE THIRD DIVISION. The third division was commanded by Chief of Division William Lacy, Jr., and presented a gay appearance with its prancing horses and gaily decorated carriages, which contained Mayor Hazard, members of the Council, the president of the day and all who took part in the literary exercises. Foreign representatives, visiting officials and representatives, visiting officials guests, occupied seats in carriages.

THE FOURTH DIVISION. Chief of Division H. J. Shoulters headed this division and while he was handicapped on account of the failure of the Grand Army posts and the Sons of Veterans to turn out, his division made a fine appearance. The Continentals and school children made up the body of the division and the little fellows, who were handsomely dressed and armed with flags, entered into the spirit of the thing and drew forth round from the spirit of the thing and drew forth round after round of applause as they marched to the tune of an excellent band.

THE FIFTH DIVISION. This division was commanded by D. Donegan and was the most attractive division in line. It was composed wholly of the fire department, and the boys never made a finer showing. Horses, engines and men looked as if they had just come out of a band-box, and no one would have believed that only a few hours before the department beginned from a band battle with was begrimed from a hard battle with the flery elements. The engines were as bright as a new silver dollar, and every engine and hose-cart in line was handsomely decked with flowers and evergreens.

Chief Moore led the procession in his brand new red wagon, and no boy with his first pair of red tops could have worn a happier look. The department turned out in the following order:

kind ever witnessed in this city. The following were in line: Newell Bros., hack, decorated, occupa-ion, plumbers. Star Grocery, one wagon, neatly decorated, emblematic of line of merchandise carried.

S, Maier, one wagon, representing the butcher business.

Knopf & Perrine, the only sign business represented in the parade, had a combination wagon with the plumbing industry of W. T. Wells, a two-horse rig, neaty-ornamented with appropriate signs.

Natatorium, a representation of the tank with old Neptune presiding on his throne, with bathers in costume, looking cool and refreshing.

The staff of life was represented by a wagon with the familiar sign "Champion Bakery" thereon, trimmed in bunting, flowers and evergreen.

The Horse Shoe Oil Company was well represented by three wagons.

Next came the evaporated cream display, tastefully arrayed in national colors.

Petry & Hummell's employment establishment, and Nittenger's familiar rig both claborately adorned with bunting and flags.

The West Lake stables, with a two-horse rig, two saddle horses and a single turnout, all Kentucky horses, was a fine exhibition of thoroughbreds.

The Los Angeles Furniture Company, with an elegant show of antique oak furnature, was well arranged and decorated.

The Staffordshire Crockery Company, with grotesque driver in costume, created merriment for the little ones, and represented the industry.

AT THE PAVILION. The Great Bullding Very Well Filled-The

At 1 o'clock the people began gathering at the Pavilion, which had been magnificently decorated in patriotic colors suitable to the occasion. Fes-toons of red, white and blue bunting fell from the center of the dome-like roof to the upper gallery railing and hundreds of flags fluttered from the net work of finges which supports the roof. An immense star, formed of flag bunting and lined with tissue paper in red, white and blue, mark of the center of the dome and from it depended a mammoth Japanese lattern, made of colored bunting, flags and paper ropes. Shields were placed at regular intervals against the gallery railings. Seats had been arrang of on the platform to accommodate the 400 school children who were expected to be present to sing patriotic congs, but only forty of these children were on hand. Where were they? Ask the small boys who were on the streets engaged in celebrating the glorious the upper gallery railing and hundreds Fourth. It is not exactly in accordance with young America's idea of patriotism to go to a big meeting, sit quietly in a platform of graduated seats and carol "Columbia," "The Star Spangled Banner" or "America." He prefers to a synthesis his love of home and native Banner" or "America." He prefers to express his love of home and native land by exploding bombs, shooting fire reackers, eating peanuts and candy and durrahing for the glorious Fourth. That was the reason why only four boylsh voices were tuned to follow Prof. Willharkitz' baton through the patriotic airs yesterday. They were celebrating the national birthday in accordance with their own taste.

There was a slight delay in opening the exercises and it was 2 o'clock before Mayor Hazard, accompanied by Hon. R. F. Del Valle, Gen. H. G. Rollins, Hon. T. J. Carran, Rev. W. A. Knighten, John W. Mitchell, orator of the day, Prof. H. E. Storrs, Rev. A. Blum, W. H. Cummings and others filed upon the stage where the orchestra and Yrof. Willhartitz had preceded them. By this time the lower floors and first gallery were comfortably filled, and after an overture by the orchestra, Hon. after an overture by the orchestra. Hon R. F. Del Valle introduced Gen. H. G Rollins as the president of the day Coming forward Gen. Rollins said:

Coming forward Gen. Rollins said:

Here in our own beautiful and loved city—here, far away, in distance and in time, from the scenes and events which gave birth to this day and occasion—here upon the Western shore of the great Republic—we have assembled to celebrate in a befitting and proper manner the one hundred and sixteenth anniversary of American Independence.

In the intervening years from 1776 to 1892 our country has grown from a comparatively sparsely settled section on the rough and rugged Eastern shore to a vast empire reaching to the Pacific—an empire of over 65,000,000 people.

We are a great, prosperous and happy Nation, under our flag—the Stars and stripes—which flag is loved at home, and respected around the round world.

Stripes—which flag is loved at home, and respected around the round world.

We should celebrate this day with patriotic emotions and loval hearts. Let us seek first the blessing of Him who rules nations and men. The Rev. W. A. Knighten will offer the invocation.

An earnest, appropriate prayer followed, and the Declaration of Inde-lowed, and the Declaration of Inde-pendence was then read by W. H. Cum-mings in a clear, penetrating voice with fine dramatic effect, sending an answering particular thrill through every heart. Long and loud was the applause which followed, and a bouquet of red and white roses fluttered down from the gallery and fell at the feet of the young orator.

The patriotic song "Star Spangled" Banner" followed, sung by the children, led by Prof. Willhartiz, and then Gen. Rollins introduced the orator of the day, John W. Mitchell, who delivered an address bristling with patriotism, the names of Washington, Lincoln and other illustrious saviors of the Nation calling out prolonged applause. Referring to the day we celebrate he said:

We are fulfilling the prophetic utterance of John Adams, who in speaking of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, displayed a wisdom and foresight rare even in the annals of great minds, when he said: "We shall make this a glorious and immortal day. When we are in our graves our children will honor it. They will celebrate it with thanksgiving, with festivity, with bonfires and illuminations:" words as marvelously prophetic, and to which could well be added those the bard of Avon so aptly put into the mouth of bard of Avon so aptly put into the mouth of the arch assassin Cassius as the dead Cæsar lay at the foot of Pompey's statue;

"How many ages hence, Shall this our lofty scene be acted over, in States unborn."

Since that day many new States have been born to the Union, and in all the fires are lighted on the altar erected by their patriotism, and the notable scene of more than a century ago is being resnarted.

than a century ago is being reënacted.

A review of the country's history from the time the thirteen colonies were first established up to the present date followed, and at the close of the oration a round of applause expressed the satisfaction of the listeners. The poem of the day, composed by Prof. Warren D. Townsend, was read by Prof. H. E. Storrs and then the audience joined the children in singing "America," the benediction was proacounced by Rev. A. Blum and the people dispersed to the music of the orchestra.

IN THE EVENING.

A Grand Display of Fireworks at West-lake Park.

The Committee on Fireworks sment such time and money on the display at Westlake Park last night and they should feel satisfied with their afforts, for it was by far the grandest affair of the kind ever witnessed in this city. Out of the 15,000 people vho wit-nessed the fireworks there was not a single complaint so far as is known.

single complaint so far as is known.

One of the most noticeable features at the lake was the excellent manner in which the immense crowd, conducted tiself. There were but few drunken men present and it could be seen at a giance that all were there, for amusement solely, and good nature prevailed the output, the serving. This may be ment solely, and good nather prevalled throughout the evening. This may be accounted for from the fact that the audience was made up principally of women and children.

The hills were crowded with carriages and fashionable turnouts and every spot

A Colored exhibition rockets, willow tree rockets, cascade rockets, sereamer rockets, reporting cannon rockets, colored parachute rockets, prismatic dragon rockets, electric shower rockets, peacock plume rockets, large colored ball chandles, special exhibition candles. Chinese musical candles, electric star spreader candles, golden shower candles, aerial bonquets, large batteries, prismatic whirlwinds, floral bombshells, large Japanese mines, Mexican jets, revolving electric cascades, bombshells, aerolites, attect fountains, crazy wheels, colored fires, etc.

The set pieces consisted of portraits of Democratic and Republican candidates for President, Harrison and Cleveland; Neptune chariot on the lake, a floating device depicting Father Neptune in his marine chariot drawn by flery horses; three swans on the lake; Niagara Falls, magnificent water falls, 45 feet high and 20 feet long, ending ingrand batteries containing 500 very large Roman candles: grand Greek fire illumination by huge bengolias, changing to batteries and fountains; volley of huge aerial projectiles; immense salvos buge aerial projectiles; immense salvos of bombshells.

A surprise was in store for the spectators in the shape of colored water thrown fully 200 feet in the air by engine No. 5. The hose, four in number, were arranged on an immense raft in the center of the lake and the spray the center of the lake and the spray was colored with red and blue fire re-flected from three boats that surrounded the raft. Engineer John W. Herney and Billie Stoermer managed the affair and deserve craft in the stoermer managed the and deserve credit for the success of the venture.

Taken as a whole the display was far beyond the average and everybody left the lake satisfied.

They marched to the Church of the Unity on the invitation of the ladies of Unity on the invitation of the ladies of that congregation and were sat down to a bountiful dinner, to which they did the ample justice that might be expected of a crowd of healthy, strong and hungry youths. As soon as the meal was over and the dessert and ice cream were disposed of, the boys sang the "Star Spangled Banner" in hearty style, and two of the smallest boys sang a duet in a manner that delighted the crowd of onlookers.

Grand Marshal's Bunquet—Elaborately Decorated Street Cars.
After the parade Grand Marshal Mc-Garry and his staff and the invited guests repaired to Jerry Illich's, where sumptuous banquet awaited them. Hon. E. F. Spence officiated at the head of the table. The following gentlemen were present: E. F. Spence, Henry Kerney, Neal Desmond, D. F. Donegan, P. L. Buddinger, A. N. Hamilton, George Atwood, C. A. Alexander, H. C. Carter, D. M. McGarry and many others of the staff. Toasts were given and responded to by several of those present and several hours were pleasantly spent.

eral hours were pleasantly spent.
One of the equipages in the parade was a milk wagon drawn by a pair of bony white horses. On the seat was the honest rancher, and by his side sat grinning young America. In two com-fortable cane seat chairs in the rear seat chairs in the rear were two women with children in their arms, and at their feet was a good sized shoe box in which reposed a baby sleeping calmly in its improvised citb, while the rest of the family "took in the sights."... Grand avenue cable car was elaborately decorated. A tiny chime of silver bells, mounted in a hoop aflutter with red, white and blue ribbons, was mounted at each end. Pampas plumes and bunting in patriotic rampas plumes and outting in patriotic colors, palm leaves, cypress and flags waved a Fourth of July welcome. The gripman, in a spirit of patriotism, wore a red, white and blue necktie.

The colored signal fires burned on Mt. Wilson last night were greatly admired by the people in Los Angeles who were so fortunately situated as to see them so fortunately situated as to see them, even at the distance of eighteen miles. The cable and electric cars were crowded until a late hour carrying the

The late trains on all the railroads were crowded with returning excursion

IN SOCIAL SPHERES.

THE GLORIOUS FOURTH.

All society turned out to help cele-brate the national birthday yesterday. Many of the social lights went out of town to do this. Perhaps the fact that the Knights Templar chose Catalina as their camping ground, was the cause of the immense crowd which visited the Happy Island. Anyway the majority of pleasure seekers in the social world pleasure seekers in the social world sought this charmed resort, which grows in popularity each year.

Capt. and Mrs. C. E. Thom, Judge and Mrs. D. P. Hatch and family, Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Mulford Judge Groff, Judge B. N. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Howes swelled the throng at Hotel Metropole.

Judge and Mrs. J. D. Bicknell, accompanied by their two daughters, also spent the Fourth at Catalina.

Mrs. E. A. Preuss and Mrs. W. H. Bonsall chaperoned a crowd of young people on a Fourth of July yachting trip, whose objective point was the Happy Island. Misses Jennie Bonsall, Millie Kurtz, Martha Heinsch, Messrs. Schumacher, E. P. Kellam, B. F. Hance. D. L. Burks and others made up the party.

D. Wills and Miss Wills, Lieut. and Mrs. J. J. Meyler and Miss Gephard celebrated the Nation's birthday at Avalon.

Avalon.
Lieut. and Mrs. Collins went to Redondo and those who stayed in town enjoyed the parade in the morning and private celebrations in the evening. At the Woman's Exchange, Mrs. M. Hughes, Mrs. Shoemaker, Mrs. Ackerman and other ladies superintended the serving of ice cream and cake for the benefit of the exchange, working faithfully till late in the afternoon. UNIVERSITY EXTENSION.

It is a sign of progression when peoand fashionable turnouts, and every spot around the lake was cryaded.

The borders of the lake were brilliantly illuminated with Chinese lanterns, and the set pieces that bordered the lake, which were managed by W. H. Wilson, the manufacturer, were so arranged that every body had an excellent view.

Bishop & Co. had the management of the floats and kept up a continual round of applause. Their programme was as follows:

Colored exhibition rockets, willow tree rockets, cascade rockets, screamer rockets, reporting cannon rockets, colored parachyte rockets, prismatic dragon rockets, electric-shower rest.

Lis a sign of progression when people show sufficient interest in literary affairs to become members of a continuity to whose object is that of intellectual development, instead of the time intention of going down to Riverside to whist or progressive euchre. This electric hat the university Extension Course will be given by Prof. Bernard Moses, Ph. D. of the State University. Some 150 people have an impetus in the right direction—that of culture and mental growth—will be the result.

EERE AND TEERE.

THE WHEELMEN.

Road Race from Los Angeles to Santa Monica.

The Most Successful Event of the Kind Yet Held.

An Exciting Contest from the Start to the Finish.

The Gold Medal Won by Waller, the Oak land Crack-Good Time Also Made by Local Representatives-The Banquet,

The Los Angeles Wheelmen cele-brated the "glorious Fourth" yesterday by holding their second annual road race from this city to Santa Monica, which proved to be one of the most successful events of its kind ever held on this side of the Rockies, and reflects great credit upon its promoters, who are all local cyclists.

The weather was all that could be de sired, as the sun considerately remained behind a bank of fog until the race was over. The roads, however, were very over. The roads, however, were very rough in places, the heaviest part being out beyond Washington street, just after the city limits had been left behind, but with two or three exceptions all of the twenty-six starters reached their desti-

The start, which was made from the The start, which was made from the Athletic Club on Spring street, was witnessed by a large number of people, who evinced so great an interest in the proceedings as to interfere to some extent with the starters, by leaving them only a small aisle between the car tracks in which to ride. Consequently when a car approached the cyclists they were compelled to form in single file to avoid collision. All this, of course, caused a delay to the competicourse, caused a delay to the compet tors, although the crowd doubtless overlooked the fact in the excitement of the moment. The first men sent away were Thompson and Duque, who left at 8:38 o'clock, and two minutes. later Johnson, Mattison and Pauly started. Then came Tyler, Alter and Cowen, each of whom was separated by one minute. Holbrook and Kitchen were next, followed by Russell and Mc-Garvin. Six men received the word at 8:46 o'clock, Simon, Hall, Gatensbury, Taylor, Stephenson and Tufts. One minute later Jenkins and Cromwell moved off, rollowed by Abel and Spier, and at 8:50 o'clock the scratch men, Waller. Muller and Hodgson were dispatched on their journey. Just as the starters were about to disperse, A. W. Birdsall appeared, and it being shown that he had broken down while on his way to the start, and had walked eight blocks to get a new machine, he was started at 8:51½ o'clock.

Special trains over both roads left this city with the judges and other officials at 9 o'clock, but that of the Southern California completely eclipsed its rival, making the run in thirty-five minutes. A rush was immediately made utes. A rush was immediately made for the finish at the intersection of Third street and Utah avenue, which was already thronged with anxious watchers, and again the crowd left but a very narrow aisle for the riders. After a few minutes of suspense a cloud of dust at the head of Utah avenue heralded the approach of the "fivers," and the cry of ."Here they come" was al-most immediately followed by a roar of enthusiastic applause as at 9:47 o clock four of the competitors emerged from the dust in close attendance. Crom-well, who was in the lead, made a game well, who was in the lead, made a game finish, as he was completely done up and had to be carried to the Arcadia after reaching the desired goal. He was followed by Kitchen, Cowen and Mattison, all of whom were close together. Then Spier came in, and after him Hall and Waller arrived in close order. The rest straggled in by twos and threes, the last man being Thomp-and threes, the last man being Inompson, who had a bad break-down and who trundled his wheel for some distance.

Waller, the Oakland crack, won the gold medal for the best time, he having ridden the distance, 18½ miles, in 1 hour, 2 minutes and 28 seconds. Cromwell, however, upheld the honors for Los Angeles in excellent tayle, his time. Los Angeles in excellent style, his time being 1 hour, 2 minutes and 372-5 seconds. In view of the fact that for the last five miles of the course he had no one to make the pace for him, this

After the competitors had had a bath, rub down and change, at the Hotel Arcadia, a banquet was held in the annex to the ballroom, at which about sixty wheelmen sat down. After the repast had been disposed of appropriate speeches were made by Dr. Bullard, Messrs. Percival McGarvin, Olds, Cromwell, Thayer, Stevenson and Jenkins. The folly of these Arctic exploring unertakings has been sufficiently proven by achistory of the past from the time of ir John Franklin to that of the Melville-reeley relief expedition. No practical reult has followed the numerous attempts spenetrate the polar regions, and those ngaging in them seem actuated more by a esire for notoriety than for doing any serice to the world.

THE half-million dollar fire which ocarred in San José last Saturday even ig was due to the malicions prank of a garette-smoking boy. In sauntering ast a stand kept by a Chinaman the oung wretch tossed the stub of his garette in among a lot of fireworks an instant the place was a pandemoium of fire, and the blaze got such a sadway that the better part of three ocks in the heart of the city was laid aste before it could be brought under bjection. One man barely escaped om the place where the fire started ad several others were seriously inred while fighting the flames. Few people are aware of the fact that te of the very best remedies for a burn ordinary mucilage,-"gumstickum." applied immediately it eases the tin, and in many instances prevents istering. The theory is that it forms er the burned cuticle a coating im ervious to the atmosphere and thus dieves the smarting sensation which so hard to bear. This simple remedy as discovered by a gentleman in Los ageles several years ago and has been ed in his family ever since with the ost satisfactory results. We have ever seen it mentioned in print, and w give it to the public for the good at it may do. A PROPOSITION to refund the bonded inbtedness of the State is to be submitd to the people at the forthcoming ection. The debt consists of some 2.500,000 held by the school and unirsity funds and $250,000 in the ands of private individuals. Secretary State Waite advises the public to te the refunding proposition down. urges, very reasonably, that the $50,000 held by individuals should it be refunded, but paid off as soon as ssible. As to the obligation to the ucational funds, it is as broad as it is The schools and the University ast be sustained at any rate, and it akes little difference whether the suprt comes in the form of interest or a capportionment of taxes. The Famine in Mexico. According to correspondence re cently published the famine in the States of Durango and Coahuila, Mexico, is of a serious character. It is said that there has been no rain in that section for four and a half years. The farmers have given up all hope of raising a crop this season, and thousands of acres of rich land upon which good crops of corn and cotton were formerly raised are now barren of all vegetation. and the States of Durango and Coahuila. with the exception of two or three small oases, have become a veritable For the Campaign and Longer-Both for Only $1.50 a Year. desert.

No form of vegetable life except the hardy maguey plant has survived the obstinate drought and in places even the maguey is beginning to shrivel up. In some remote parts of the country the inhabitants have been living on the acrid juice of this what. A corre spondent writing from ngo says: There are 2000 men and several hundred teams employed in the construction of the Mexican international road from this city to Torreon. Following the construction camps are no less than 500 half-starved Mexicans, who make constant and pitiful Mexicans, who make constant and pitiful appeals to the laborers for something to eat. Each night the horses and mules of the camp are corralled, and when the animals are taken out in the morning their places are immediately filled by a hungry and fighting horde of half-clad men, women and children. Whenever one of the animals dies or is accidentally killed, as is often the case, they fall upon its body like vultures and eat the meat raw. These pictures of suffering are not were and on the case in the meat raw.

In the city of Laredo, which was a few years ago the great industrial and manufacturing center of the State of Coahuila, being located in the midst of what was once the most productive cotton-raising country in the world, there is untold suffering among the people. The government has taken the relief of the starving people on its hands and large sums have been raised by private sub scription. Nevertheless, if the drought is not broken up within six months, this otherwise haturally fertile region muspecome an uninhabited desert

THE New York Sun has placed side by side the rejected tariff plank of the Democratic party and that of the Republicans, and shows that they substantially resemble each other, whereupon the San Francisco Chronicle calls attention to the fact that there were 352 Democratic members of the convention who voted for the rejected plank, which declared squarely in favor of a tariff having for its object the protection of American labor. These same 352 members subsequently voted for Cleveland plank. which shows just how consistent is the average Democratic politician.

POLITICAL POINTS

The Democratic party has generally nom inated men that Tammany opposed for President. Except in 1884 the has lost every election in which such a candidate was named for President. The record is

A man may get the title of "General" tacked to his name by being Third or Fourth Assistant Postmaster-General, but with the following declaration:

The Democratic policy is to enforce frugality in public expenses and abolish unnecessary taxation. Our established domestic industries and enterprises should not and need not be endangered by the reduction. On the contrary, a fair and careful revision of the tax laws, with due allowance for the difference between the wages of American and foreign labor, must promote and encourage every branch of such industries. it takes another sort of service to make a "brave soldier" out of a man. Honolulu, June 21 .- [Special Corre spondence of THE TIMES.] On June 10 Mr. Justice Dole read a lengthy decision in the preliminary trial for committal in which, contrary to expectation, Col. V. V. Ashford and five natives were dismissed and R. W. Wilcox and five other natives were committed for trial in the Supreme Court on a charge of treason Friday evening, the same day, V. V.
steamer Hawaii for the island of Maui, where he has since left for San Francisco by the bark J. D. Spreckels, which sailed this week. At the conclusion of the trial the government announced they would immediately rearrest Ashford on a charge of he had left to avoid arrest. It is now however, that Ashford left somewhat against his will at the urgent request of his friends, who had made a verbal con-tract with the government that if the affair was allowed to quiet down and the rest of the conspirators held by Judge Dole be discharged by a nolle prosequi in the near future. Ashford would be sent away. The affair, in fact, is, as was anticipated, a general breakis, as was anticipated, a general oreas-down on the part of the government, who seem to be unwilling to further aid the Queen's favorite, Marshal Wilson, in carrying out his personal fight against his rival R. W. Wilcox. It is earned on good authority that Ashford will probably return. The cases against the remaining conspirators will be dis-missed in a few days under the agree-ment made with the Attorney-General.

The Legislature has openly accused the present Cabinet with being without a policy, and have appointed a special Ways and Means Committee to consider and recommend future action on na-tional affairs. The action of the House will be followed by a vote of want of confidence to be introduced within the next few days. To carry this through the liberal and reform factions will the liberal and reform factions will unite against the national reform fac-tion, or what is now generally known as the German-English faction. He had been in the Austrian navy over thirty years. He was buried on the 12th mst. in Nuuanu Cemetery. The marine funeral was an imposing sight and was participated in by the U.S.S. THE LANAI MURDERERS. This murder took place several months ago on the island of Lanai, and was committed by several natives and a fe male kahuna, or sorceress, under the inspiration of the latter. Several innocent native people were murdered and their bodies afterward burned, among them being the husband of the sorceress mentioned. The trial took place on the island of Mani, where the prisoners had to be protected from the fury of the crowd. Five were dismissed and five others, the female sorceress, Pulolo, and the four men implicated with her, were found guilty of murder in the second degree upon a unanimous verdict.

THE CELEBRATION OF THE FOUR The American residents, aided by the United States Minister and the cruisers San Francisco and Boston, the latter to arrive July 3, are preparing for an imposing celebration on the 4th of July. It is proposed to make this celebration something more than ordinary, although the definite plan is yet in the hands of the committee. United States Minister J. L. Stevens named the committee on literary exercises, and the event is therefore looked forward to with expectancy.

MORE PLATFORM MAKING.

A Resolution Squarely Indorsing the Boy Cott Adopted.
OMAHA (Neb.,) July 4.— By the Associated Press.] The delegates were prompt in arriving for the night session and all were nervous and expect information as to the possibility of a nomination being accepted by Judge Gresham.

The first actual business was the reading by Chairman Branch of the reading by Chairman Branch of the Resolutions Committee of a supplement to the platform as follows:

WHEREAS, other questions have been presented for our consideration, we hereby submit the following, not as part of the platform of the People's party, but as resolutions expressive of the sentiment of this convention.

The revenue derived from a graduated income tax should be applied to the reduction of the burden o' laxation now levied upon domestic industries of the country.

We pledge support to fair and liberal pensions to exclusion soldiers and sallors.

We condemn protecting American labor inder the present system, which opens our ports to pauper and criminal classes of the under the pres ports to pauper and criminal classes of the world and crowds out our wage-earners, and we denounce the present ineffective laws against contract lapor and demand further restriction of undesirable immigration.

We cordially sympathize with the efforts of organized workmen to shorten the hours of labor and demand the rigid enforcement of the existing eight-hour law on Govern-ment work and ask that a penalty clause be added to said law.
We regard the maintenance of a large standing army of mercenaries known as the standing army of mercenaries known as the Pinkerton system as a menace to our liber-ties, and demand its abolition; and we con-demn the recent invasion of Wyoming by hired assassins of a plutocracy assisted by Federal officers. We favor a constitutional provision limiting the office of President and Vice-President to one term, and pro-viding for the election of Senators of the United States by direct vote of the people.

Branch then introduced Hugh Cava augh of Ohio, secretary of the Resolution Committee, who read the following resolution, unanimously adopted by the committee:

Resolved, that this convention sympathize with the Knights of Labor in their right-eous contest with the tyrannical combine-of clothing manufacturers of Rochester, and declares it the duty of all who hate tyranny and oppression to refuse to purchase goods made by said manufacturers or to patronize any merchant who sells or to patronize any merchant who sells or to patronize any merchant who sells such goods.

In vehement language General Secretary Hayes, of the Knights of Labor, declared that sympathy was not what was wanted. The Knights of Labor de-manded a boycott.

Cator of California earnestly supported the resolution and entered upon what he described a the scientific basis of the boycott, and pointed to the action of Moses when the children of Israel were oppressed, to show its ancient character. "Boycotting is not human, but divine," he said.

"Cyclone" Davis of Texas was for the boycott. After some further debate. Ignatius Donnelly took the platform. The resolution, he declared, was in The resolution, he declared, was in keeping with the spirit of the preamble to the platform adopted with so much unanimity earlier in the day. The Rochester clothing manufacturers have said to 16,000 of their workmen and workwomen that they could not gain a means of livelihood without yielding their rights as American citizens. Mr. Donnelly said:

On this there can be no compromise. The agriculturists of the country must stand by their brethren and we will crush all men who seek to oppress their fellow-men. Here there can be no hesitation and no compromise. It is war to the knife and knife to the hilt. [Loud cheers.] I trust that those who have staggered away from this resolution because of the opprobrium that a hireling press has applied to the word "boycott" will withdraw opposition and that the resolution will be adopted by a rising vote. [Tremendous applause.]

At the conclusion of Donnelly's address Powderly, Hayes and others grasped him warmly by the hand. A kansas delegate moved the previous question, but the chairman stated that a colored brother desired to say a few words. "I won't yield to any brother," said the Kansas man, and on a rising On this there can be no compromise. The Powderly, Hayes, Terrill and others expressed the same opinion.

A resolution declaring against the presence of public officers at conventions, prepared by Cator of California, was reported from the Resolutions Committee. It provides that no person holding any office or position of profit, trust or emolument under Federal, or any State or municipal government (including Senators, Congressmen, members of Legislatures, State and national) shall be eligible to sit or vote in any convention of this party. This was adopted with a whoop.

TE ask the employees throughout the city and the laboring men to read carefully and cut it out and save it, the sworn statement of our Mr. Luther, who has been bookkeeper in the house for the past four years. It is the strongest argument that any one can use in favor of closing Saturday nights. Eighty-four per cent. of an increase over the corresponding week of one year ago. What an enormous growth! This sworn statement appeared in Sunday's TIMES. For the many words of good cheer that we have heard coming from the employees all over this city we are profoundly grateful. We know the stand taken on the early-closing movement has been appreciated by every employee in this city. Mr. Hammel, the head floor-walker; Mr. Simpson from the Wash Goods Department, and Mrs. Leithead from the Millinery Department are out on their vacations this week with full pay in advance; when they return it will be with a light heart and a greater desire to work honestly and conscientiously for their employers if such a thing is possible. Can any one doubt the existence of the very best feeling on the part of these able assistants? What a pleasure it is to see them enjoy it. The following week another lot will go out, and so on each week until every employee from the cash boys up will have a week's outing. Laboring men throughout the city, we know you appreciate this. The great growth in the business of this house shows it. The strong hold we now have on the business of this city has been largely brought about by adopting advanced and humane ideas. The time has gone by when clerks are to be looked upon as so much machinery; they have been elevated, and this elevation is only the commencument of an education when the great masses will be the teacher. This is an age of progress. The writer of this is friend to every employee in the city. Eighteen years of the most laborous work-many and many a night till 12, and even 1 and 2 o'clock has labor been performed, until broken in health and spirit this great city was turned to for building up the body. Nine years' residence in this city has restored health and brought about new ideas, and the new education has only commenced. From now on it will be the greatest good to the greatest number.

- Los Angeles, California.

The above are two fac similes of many REWARDS OF MERIT or DIPLOMAS of PROPES-SIONAL SKILL which have from time to time been awarded to the CELEBRATED CHINESE PHYSICIAN, DR. WONG, for his superior medical abilities and guartive powers. It has long been customary among the Chinase people when one becomes sick and when repeated attempts to cure him have failed, and he is perhaps given up to die, if, after having been taken to an eminent physician, he be cured of his disease—the cured, too in addition to the regular fee for professional services rendered, makes the physician a presant as a token of gratitude for his restoration to health and the prolongation of his life. This present consists usually of a broad plank, presenting much the appearance of a sign-board, filled with characters entirely meaningless to the average English scholar, but full of meaning to the successful physician and his friends, It is a motto which nighty compliments the physician for his great skill in effecting a cure of the disease which once afflicted the donor.

It is not an uncommon thing to see a great number of these COMPLIMENTARY DIPLOMAS adorning the office walls of Chinese physicians in their native country, and indeed a number of the most successful one; in this country are the happy possessors of a few of these high tokens of very superior medical ability.

A Glimpse of Southern Oregon in June.

A Region of Grand Forests, Smiling Valleys and Running Streams.

With the Climate and Vegetation of Southern Ohio.

Ashland and its Attractive Location-The Fruit Industry and Other Interests-Pen Picture of a Pastoral

ASHLAND (Or ..) June 25, 1892 .-[Staff correspondence of THE TIMES.]
A journey by rail from Los Angeles hward to the Oregon line, by way of the Tehachepi Mountains, the San Joaquin Valley, the Bay of San Fran-cisco, the Sacramento Valley and caffon, towering Mount Shasta and "the Sisklyous," gives the traveler a profound impression of the extent, diversity and greatness of California. The Golden State is an empire in extent, and in its mountain scenery the embodiment of vastness and majestic grandeur. It is great in its resources; unexampled in the beauty and spread of its broad valleys; satisfying in its incomparable cli-mate and in the fertility of its soil.

The completion of the California and Oregon Railroad, over which we passed in journeying to this point from the Bay, has opened for the traveler the hitherto impregnable rocky gateways of the aorthern mountains, taking him in the very fastnesses of the high Sierras, very fastnesses of the high Sierras, where nature stands today in all her primeval grandeur; where Deity himvelf has carved her "Castle Crags," lifted the piney forest spires of her grand cathedral, and timed to unending harmony the full-voiced anthems of her thousand crystal streams.

The thunderous tread of the iron horse echoes from rocky peak and crag, and at times not only the blue firmament of heaven is above us, but the vast ment of heaven is above us, but the vast granite sides of massive mountains, granite sides of massive mountains, where may be seen open spaces where the ponderous trees have been snapped by the descending avalanche; spaces now warm with the golden sunshine, and covered with verdure. It is a wonderful battlemented mountain-world that we have traversed to reach this point—just beyond the California State line. The tourist can nowhere find grander scenery; more impressive erystal streams and rivers; deeper mountain gorges; wilder cañons; vaster forests, or more imposing seenic won-fers than are found along the railway route from the upper Sacramento Val-ley through the Sacramento Cañon and to the Oregon line.

The Southern portion of Oregon, in which Ashland is situated, is designated by the people the "Italy of Oregon," and I shall not dispute the fitand a shall not dispute the nt-aess of the designation. It has a pleas-ant and equitable chimate; much resem-bling that of Southern Ohio and Ken-tucky, though, unlike them, it has the advantage of cool nights which usually succeed even the warmest days of sum In fact, the inhabitants call it an ideal climate, claiming that it realizes the golden mean between the water-legged weather of western Oregon and the droughts of California.

I am struck with the climatic and regetable resemblances between Southern Oregon and the Ohio River region already referred to. The season here is equally advanced, despite the proximity of the snow-covered mountains, and the vegetation of the hills and vallevs takes on many feature of the Onio River "hottoms," and the adjacent up-lands. The luxuriant meadows of the Rogue River Valley resemble those of "La Belle Riviere," and I see here many of the same trees that oc-cur in the forests of the Middle States—the white oak, black oak, chestnut oak and the scrub oak, Eastern maples and the soft maple, the dear old black walnut and sweet butter-put of childhead; days, the speamers nut of childhood's days, the sycamore, ash, birch, willow and cedar, the pines, but in far greater variety and magnitude, besides numerous smaller trees and shrubs, including the wild cherry, the crab apple, dogwood, elderberry, rhododendron, small birch, hazel nut, gooseberry, wild currant, huckleberry sassafras and wintergreen. The fruit trees are those common to the Middle

We reached Ashland about 5 o'clock we reached Ashland about 5 o'clock in the afternoon, and while waiting dinner took a long saunter through its pleasant streets and later a pleasant drive through it and its surrounding

The town of Ashland is picturesquely licated upon charming foothill slopes, at an altitude of nearly 2000 feet above sea level. It is indeed "beautiful for situation," environed by noble mountain ranges, and lying near the head of Regue River Valley. About it lies fertile land, both valley and hill, weat timber sloves or chards of deciding the control of t great timber slopes, orchards of deciduous fruits, and many a beautiful vale and meadow, with sunny nooks everywhere amid the hills to invite the home-builder. A new impulse was given to the place with the advent of the Oregon and California Railroad four years ago. Since then its population has nearly trebled, being now about 2000. All trains stop here, it being the end of a division. Here are located the roundhouse, repair shops and ice houses of this branch of the road. Interviewing some of Ashiand's citizens, I learned that here are located woolen mills from which some of the finest blankets made in the Nortwest are turned out; also flouring mills which not only supply the entire local trade, but ship their product to many other points. I had heard much of the orchards of this section, but I was surprised to learn of the magnitude of the finit interests of this city. There are hundreds of acres of tributary land planted to fruits of various kinds, including apples, pears, quinces, plums, prunes, cherries and peaches. The preference is given to the latter fruit, and thrifty orchards are seen on every hand, clothing the valleys, crowning the fertile hill slopes and touching hands with the dark lines of conifers which crown their crests. Almonds and English wainuts, chestnuts, grapes and all the smaller fruits are also raised here.

The slivery Ashland Creek meanders the place with the advent of the Ore-gon and California. Railroad four years raised here.

The slivery Ashland Creek meanders through the town, brightening the landscape with its pellucid waters, which are fed by the snows of the higher ranges. It has a fall, I am told, of 250 feet to the mile, and the volume of water is sufficient to furnish power many times greater than that which has already been utilized. Ashland has therefore the natural facilities for developing into a manufacturing place; it re quires capital and enterprise. Already it has woolen and flour mills, sawmill and planing mills, and a combination fence factory. Regular farming is not a prominent industry; horticulture takes

The section is also rich in mineral The section is also rich in mineral wealth; the precious metals are not rare, while marble, granite and limestone await the quarryman's hand. Several quarries are now in active operation and a large amount of stone for building purposes is shipped by rail to different points. It will be long before I forget our pleasant evening drive through the streets and suburbs of this charming little mountain town. The sun was but itcle mountain town. The sun was but little way above the horison when we set out, but we had two hours of de-icious twilight, and behind a pair of nigh-stepping grays we drove past cosy cottage homes with the peach orchard n almost every yard; past more pre-entious mansions, where the old-time tentions mansions, where the old-time hollyhocks grew, and the sweet Will-iams and garden pinks and the sleepy poppies nodded at us from behind the fences, and the cherry and peach or-chards environed them with green; looked up to the high slopes and saw them crowned with lovely homes; looked down into the wide expanses through which the creeks ran, and up to the opposite hills, and then we plunged into a charming by-way running through a dense growth of chapparal and red-limbed madrana and the thick-leaved manzanita and other shrubs, while here and there were towering trees of oak, pine and cedar, where birds were hushing their young to slumber, and in the air the heavy-ladened beedroned lazily, and the butterfly floated on almost motionthe butterfly floated on almost motionless yings.

Once we lost our way, but a native told us to "turn to the left through the bresh" and we would soon come out upon the "main big road." But this took us 'through 'the thickset undergrowth, over a not well-trodden drive, down a slope where the road was turned up on edge, and past some happy campers whose brush fire for cooking the evening meal blazed brightly, and whose evening meal blazed brightly, and whose great "white ship of the plains" fur-nished them shelter. Here, through the unique skill of our San Francisco driver, we found the highway which we sought. The stars were coming out one by one in the blue overhead, but still all the in the blue overhead, but still all the warm west was aglow with the splendor of the yet unfaded sunset. That long, lingering twilight, in which the blue melts so gradually into pale lavender and gray, and into purple in the farther east, while still the west is affame, took me back among New England's hills, and it seemed as if I breathed again the like of the fragrant means the seemed as if I breathed again the air of her fragrant meadows and the air of her fragrant meadows and the aromatic breath of her pines.

The air was wonderfully balmy and soft, and the country people were sitting on their door steps, father, mother and little ones all grouped mother and little ones all grouped together, enjoying the placid evening, the labors of the day all done. Above them hung the faint, silver crescent of the new moon and now and then a night-bird called through the gathering shadows, while the jubilant ffogspiped merrily in the quiet pools, filling piped merrily in the quiet pools, filling the hour with unwented charms for us wandering city-dwellers from the semi-wandering city-dwellers from the semi-tropic Southland.

But, as we approached the town I could scarcely believe my eyes, for flashing out through the intervening trees were brilliant electric lights, telling us that though we had come so far over mountain passes and snowy heights, through wildernesses, unbroken only by the iron horse, the spirit of modern improvement was with us still and its inspiration was the everadvancing railroad, which is the sure pathway of moving empire and the pioneer of broadening civilization. pioneer of broadening civilization

Offered by the Southern California Land Company, 230 North Main Street, adjoining First National Bank

1630 Shares at $100 Each, In Installments of $5.00 per Month Without Interest.

Not a Land Distribution, but An Investment of Money! Each share will earn 5 per cent. per month on each $100 for five years, and has the best real estate security.

Sixteen hundred and thirty shares at $100 each will buy the Fowler Ranch of $600 acre with the present improvements and the prospective improvements to be made by the present owners at a cost to them of $50,000. This splendid property is situated on the border line of Tulare and Kern counties, four miles west of the Valley Road of the Southern Pacific Raifroad, and four miles north of the branch line to the oil wells and twelve miles west of the present line to San Francisco. A survey of the Santa Fe line has been made through the western portion of this tract.

Prospectus.

We are soliciting subscriptions for shares in an incorporation to be organized for the purpose of buying from the present owners the Fowler Rinch, containing 6800 acres, situate on the border line of Fulare and Rern counties, for 255 per acre, with its present improvements and with $50,000 of improvements to be made by the owners and included in the price of $55 per acre, as stated. This is not a land distribution, but an interest of money, with return of money and profits, by dividing the tract into 40-acre subdivis-ons, and after the improvements are made, selling at a future period at $500 or 50 per acre. There will be 1600 shares in the corporation at $100 each, to be paid for in $50 monthly installments with ut interest. Ou the sixth payment the subscribers will incorporate, will elect their officers, and the trustee they may appoint will receive a deed for 680 acres, in escrow, clear of all fluctual profits, with the certificate of title attached of the Abstract and Title Insurance Company of Los Angeles, to be delivered to the corporation when the purchase money is paid. The $50,000 proposed improvements guaranteed by a deposit in bank of that amount, to be paid out to the contractors on certified vouch era at they progress with the work.

Description of the Property.

The land is a rich, black loam, and is known as the Fowler Ranch. It was purchased many years ago by the late Senator Tom Fowler of Tulare, when he had the opportunity of obtaining the cream of Tulare and Kern counties. It is in the center of the artestan fruit and alfalfa belt; has upon it now a sample artestan well flowing 500,000 gallons, and is in the immediate vicinity of the largest dowing wells in the State.

The Present Price and What the Investment Will Pay.

The low rate of the purchase, $20 per acre, with all the present and the projected improvements hereta recited, made and paid for by the present owners, at a cost of $30,000, enables us to guarantee at the lowest rate of sale in the future, say $100 per acre within it eyears, an interest of 5 per cent a month on each share of $100 from the date of sub-

6520 acres at 825 per acre, with the improvements included Interest at 5 per cent. per month from commencement of subscription to the end of the five years on 1630 shares.....

Sales of 880 town lots of one-quarter acre each 44,000 00 This would leave a surplus of $22,000 after paying the interest of 5 per cent. per month This surplus would meet all expenses for the full term; salary of seperintendent, taxes expenses attending sales and any extra improvements that the trustess might deem Placed Before the Public for Investment. The Southern California Land Company of Los Angeles now places this tract before the public and strongly recommends it for the investment of large or of small amounts. This company has conducted in the past seven years many large successful land deals in Los Angeles. Its record it without reproach, and its references include the leading citizens of Southern California. Its clients have numbered hundreds of investors in the childs tract. Utmston tract City Center tract, etc. Its dealines have amounted to hundreds of notations of dollars and it starbit today one of the most popular drams in this see

An Interest of Five per cent. per Month Must Arrest Attention

An Interest of Five per cent. per Month Mast Agrest Attention.

An investment with perfect security and carning 5 per cent. per month on each $100 share for a term of five years from the date of the first payment of $5, must arrest the attention of every one. It will also be borne in mind that should the stockholders elect to sell at $100 an acre within, say two years and a half, half of the time that we here propose, their investment will net them 10 per cent. per month for that period.

Full Security.

This is not a land distribution, but an investment of money with return of money and interest. Building associations and savings banks are all founded on real estate security and pay from 5 to 5 per cent. per year. Here you have not only the best real estate security your own proportion of the land, if acres to each share, until it is sold by your own own trustees, and then you have your division of profits.

observation, study and investigation, as fully as lay in his power to perfect himself in all pranches of the art of healing human sickness and disease Bern in China, of influentia as leading physician, Dr. Woh naturally followed in the footsteps of his fathers. In China he has practiced his profession for several years, being at one time a physician in the Imperial Hospital, and in America for a long time. His great number of patients, his nderful and many cures, and the great list of letters from grateful and thankful patrons now prove him to be a remarkable and successful healer of sickness and all disease. For a long time I have been suffering with bladder and kidney troubles. No doctoring or medicines seemed to do me good I consulted the best physicians and surgeons in Los Angeles city. They gave me morphine and drugs, but no relief could I obtain. Another Party to Start for the Yosemite Los Angeles-Brevities

Yesterday was a quiet Fourth in Pasa-dena in the way that no public celebration took place, but in other words the day was as noisy as the most enthusiastic patrio

At 7 o'clock Co. B turned out under com mand of Capt. Bangham for dress parade. The line of march was from the armory to Colorado street, thence west to Pasadena avenue, countermarch to Fair Oaks, thence south to Kansas, countermarch to Colorado, thence back to the armory. Soon after the streets assumed a lively appearance. The band took an early train for Los Angeles to participate in the festivities there, and at least one-third of the local populace also journeyed thither to see the show. The streets were filled with teams bearing ped ple from the rural districts to town, or ple from the rural districts to town or town people to one or another of the moun-tain cañons, where the day was spent pic-nicking. The summit of Mt. Wilson proved a popular destination for some of the peo-ple who wanted to make the most out of the holiday; and all the helghboring beach resorts were well patronized. The Ter-minal road did an immense business, two of the big locomotives being worked hard all day to take care of the local traffic. The small boy was out in full force, and day to take care of the local traffic.

The small boy was out in full force, and the air reverberated from sunrise until late at night with the noise of firecrackers, torpedoes and every other thing that the pyrotechnic manufacturer has ever invented. During the evening there were several private displays set off that were quite brilliant. Altogether the day passed off satisfactorily, with no accidents nor fires to record.

OUR COUNTRY'S GREATNESS. At the Methodist Tabernacle Sunday evening Rev. J. W. Phelps preached a pa-

evening Rev. J. W. Pheips preached a patriotic sermon, appropriate to the Fourth of July. There was a large audience present, who listened with undivided attention to the eloquent words of the speaker.

The text was from the Psalms: "He hath not dealt so with any nation." At the outset Mr. Phelps expressed regret to see some disposition to allow our national days to sink into forgetfulness. "We need more such days in this country, not simply days to sink into forgetfulness. "We need more such days in this country, not simply as days of rest, but for their wonderful unifying and nationalizing power upon our many and different peoples." After referring to the dire predictions made by many as to a swift and terrible visitation of God's judgment upon this day and generation, which Mr. Phelps declared are wholly without foundation, his first point was that our Nation had a good beginning. It had a good birth and came from the best of families. "The old country was sifted and the wheat came over here. We started with a body of men that feared God and understood the great principles of civil liberty, and who came over here. We started with a body of men that feared God and understood the great principles of civil liberty, and who purposed in their hearts to glorify God and better the condition of their kind. We grew up in our soil from a healthy, sturdy root." The next point was that the Nation has pienty of room to expand. "Never were such possessions put into the hands of any people, never such prospects of national wealth. We have ample room for hundreds of millions of people; we can raise bread for all mankind." In this connection the subject of emigration was touched upon and its evils and dangers pointed out. The free schools were named as another of the nation's good points. Another was that "no priestly domination is here. Towns are now just as they were hundreds of years ago and will so continue hundreds of years hence. You see there is a power behind the throne over there that takes society by the neck and holds it back. It cannot be done so here." Still another good point referred to was religious equality. "We have 5,000,000 Methodists, 4,000,090 Baptists, 3,000,000 Presbytens 1,500,000. Congregationalists, 9,50. 1ty. "We have 5,000,000 Methodists, 4,000,000 Baptists, 3,000,000 Presbyterians, 1,500,000 Congregationalists, 950,000 Episcopalians. We work together harmoniously and delightfully and there is a growing disposition on the part of all to cultivate Christian fellowship. Not so in Panelsand 11 Mention was next made of the cultivate Caristian fellowship. Not so in England." Mention was next made of the important fart that we are an enterprising people. After this and other good qualities of this Nation had been mentioned in due order the speaker briefly turned the attention of his hearers to a few weak and dangerous features that deniand attention. The first of which is univelval suffrage in our cities. "America is coming to be ruled more and mcre by its cities. "The population in the agricultural districts weakens, while the cities grow. Our great cities have a vast deal of scum in them and everbody born there or who, has stayed there a while has a vote. Universal suffrage is a great peril, and our ouly hope under God to counteract it and servive it is a free gospel and free schools. These are our remedies. As for me, I would have a man have something more than the body he remedies. As for me, I would have a man have something more than the body he lives in, in order to be a voter. He should have some local interest, or at least education. It has always been held that the ruling classes should be educated. Here the people rule and the people must be educated. You cannot long maintain a republic in ignorance. Look at South America. We must stand to the last by our free schools."

Another danger was found in the fact Another danger was found in the fact that we lack reverence for law. "There is great danger in our frequent elections and the shifting of power from one hand to another easily." The last danger mentioned was the temptations of the dram shops. "I plty the land that has universal suffrage and universal dram shops, for the voter, who is the ruler, ought to have a clear head and sound conscience, and nothing demoralizes him like strong drink. The temperance reform is a vital question with us." th us."
The speaker closed in a brilliant perora-

Early in the morning and for a few hours in the forenoon the streets were crowded, but as soon as the street parade of the order of the Knights of Pythias, headed by the Santa Ana brass band, and assisted by Co. F. N. G. C., and the Santa Ana Boys Brigade, was over the streets were cleared and a quieter day in the county seat has seldom been experienced in the history of the city. But at Newport, Santa Ana's nearest coast point, there was a different state of affairs. The Santa Ana Lodge, K. of P., their friends, neighbors and neighbors' friends all joined in a grand old-fashioned seaside basket picnic. The Santa Ana and Newport Railroad was turned over to the picnickers and everybody seemed to the picnickers and everybody seemed to the picnickers and everybody seemed to be in the best of spirits. Dancing in the new pavilion continued throughout the day. The breakers were running nicely and hundreds of men, women and children took a salt sea plunge to their own delight and the amusement of the several thousand spectators.

The new hotel located directly on the beach, which has just been completed at a cost of several thousand dollars, had its formal opening yesterday. The hotel in incely turnished and is very commodious. The view from the balcony is an inspiring one, and the cool, refreshing sea breezes are exhilarating and refreshing. The first thing in the morning, after the usual burst of firecrackers and enthusiasm and the first of the National saluteres. The first thing in the morning, after the usual burst of firecrackers and enthusiasm and the firing of the National salute, was the parade of the Calathumpians, or what was to be such a parade. It was a worse fizzle than a poor firecracker, however, as but one wagon came out, and the character of that very questionable for a street parade. The regular civil and military parade was an elaborate affair. A. P. Morse, marshal of the day, was assisted by a half dozen aids, as the procession formed on Third and moved to E and out E to the pavillion. The procession was beaded by the San Bernandino band in its neat, new gray uniforms. The Waterman Rifles followed, then came the hose company and the hook and ladder company with their wagons beautifully decorated. Next came the Typographical Union with a large company. Mexicans on horseback came next and the procession finished with a concourse of citizens in carriages. Fully a thousand people assembled in the pavillon to hear the exercises there. After a selection by the band the Declaration of Independence was read by J. W. Curtis, and there were citizens who here heard it for the first time. After more musts C. C. Southern Pacific train No. 20, due at 10 o'clock last night, was reported three and a half hours late. The Terminal Company's trains to pass before the 3500 people who day's ball game out at Athletic Club Park tire of discussing the magnificent exhibition which was in every respect the equal of the one played the day be-fore, with the additional important feature of victory for the local prides. It was a royal day for baseball, and a loyal crowd of rooters it was on the bleachers, too. The contest wound up a series of games that has done much to make the national game a fixture in Los Angeles. No two champion clubs in the United States ever gave a more scientific exhibition than was seen in five of the Los Angeles-San José games played during the past week. Luck and science were blended in happy porions, and the result was literally a 'howling' success.

Stafford was on the boards to pitch nt Balsz, who has not been entirely satisfied with himself since Saturday saked to be allowed to work off another slice of his monthly salary. He was readily accommodated and began pitch-ing ball from the jump. In fact, his work was a pleasant reminder of the times when he was winning all his games and was constantly hailed as "Phenomenal Louie." Those who were saying that the Vallejo boy's arm had ost its cunning are once more hedging on the main issue, for he parceled out six scattered hits, yes erday, one of which was popped up by Jerry Denny and would have been gathered in but for a misunderstanding between Glenalvin and Newman. Although he hit two men, only one walked down the line, and he further distinguished him-self by striking out the heaviest batters among the Dukes. Six times the mighty Jerry Denny reached out for the ball that was not there, while Dooley and Everett also fell before the little German. His work, in fact, added largely to the success of the entire Fourth of July celebration.

The other eight men in the club also took a hand in winning the game. Hasamaear played like an old veteran behind the bat, having neither a bat-tery nor a fielding error. His throwing to bases was a feature, and he was full of ginger.

Capt. Glenalvin gathered in everything that came within hailing distance while Jimmy Stafford did some phenom enal work at short in spite of his three errors, and "Kid" Hulen helped along

No runs were scored till the fourth inning, when Everett's error gave "Pop" McCauley a life. Hasamaear and Newman singled, Glenalvin dropped a two-bagger along the left field four line, and this, with Everett's second error, netted four runs. In the fifth another came on Tread another came on Tread-way's force hit, Hasamaear's single and Stallings's error. McCauley's triple and Treadway's single brought another in the seventh.

Only two of the visitors made the circuit. Clark opened the fifth with a double and was sacrificed in. In the seventh Denny opened with a scratch two-bagger, stole third and scored on Clark's single. The Dukes suffered badly from double The Dukes suffered badly from double plays. In the third inning Harper attempted to sacrifice, but popped up a little fly to Balsz, who doubled Stallings at first. In the eighth Wright caught Denny's hot fly, and caught Ebright pef, peas, lettuce and tomato oca cream at Woman's Exchange, buth Broadway.

The but few drunks on the street and only three or four were the city prison.

The did stook a hand in dolbling up Har-per and McVey in the ninth. Follow-ing is the official score:

line Stove Without Extinguishing Sight.

. Carelessness in filling a lighted stove with oil cost two lives yesterday morning at Catalina, the victims being the wife and four-months-old babe of Emile Chifflet, chef of the Hotel Metropole. Mrs. Chifflet attempted to refill her stove without putting out the blaze, and the oil overflowing, she tried to smother the fire with her apron. She was almost instantly enveloped in fire and rushed screaming toward the hotel, half a block distant. No one could get near enough to stop her and she reached the hotel office, where Clerk Burns stopped her flight and Judge B. N. Smith tore a portier from the parlor doors and with it smothered the fire. Dr. Boynton and Fowler attended the poor woman at once and did everything to relieve her. The burns were so seffous that she died at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The child was taken from the burning tent. child was taken from the burning tent almost dead and survived but a few

MERIT

It is neither luck nor chance that brings to our house the large and growing trade that we enjoy, but it is our systematic efforts to place before our trade only the best of wares at prices that cannot be matched nor equalled elsewhere. We are the only house in our line that is constantly represented by one of the firm at New York. Thinking patrons will readily see and understand the benefit of our being in the market and doing our own selecting and buying. It is quite different from deputizing a stranger to do your work. It is very much different, inasmuch as a principal will buy a line of merchandise at an inducement price, instantly at a second's reflection, whereas, a hired buyer has no option but fills orders in their regular rotation only. These inducement prices occur, yes they occur daily, which is the simple secret why our stock abounds with far more undervalues for buyers to feast upon than does the

Entire Town All'

Day in, day out, we are bettering the class of our belongings; we are offering you higher class materials; we are offering them daily, yet only at our well-known proper prices. This is shown more especially in our Dress Goods Department, where, as a test, you'll see our 50c Dress Goods, worth 75c elsewhere, and our 75c Dress Goods worth $1.00 elsewhere. Samples are given to doubting buyers, for it is our desire, not alone to sell, but to make a constant customer of every one we sell to. We are not satisfied to have your trade one time, but we want it always; in fact, there is nothing gained by a house selling a buyer but once. What we aim for is to count you amongst our countless constant customers.
